CHRONICLES OF ARARAT

Legacy of Ancient Armenia

Chronicles Of Ararat is a documentary collection that brings to life the battles, kings, and political intrigue of a forgotten power that once held the balance between East and West. Through epic live-action reconstructions, archaeology, and expert commentaries, we uncover a lost world that stood face to face with Assyria, The Median Empire, nomadic Scythians, and even Rome. The legacy of Urartu still echoes from Armenia to Iran—in its engineering, culture, and the historical memory of the region's peoples.

II. KING ARTAVASDES II: Between Rome and Parthia

This docudrama tells the story of Artavasdes II — an ancient Armenian king and skilled diplomat who dared to defy Rome and Mark Antony. Amid Roman-Parthian wars and political intrigue, he sided with Parthia, was captured, and taken to Alexandria, where a fateful encounter with Cleopatra changed his destiny.

III. WINE. THE STORY

This captivating documentary uncorks the ancient secrets of one of humanity's oldest and most mysterious drinks. From royal banquets to sacred rituals, from healing potions to deadly conspiracies — wine was at the heart of power, faith, and medicine in the ancient world. Who first tamed the grape? Where did winemaking begin? Was wine a divine gift — or a bold invention that changed the course of history? A journey through time, myth, and legend awaits — sip by sip.

IV. TIGRANES THE GREAT: Between East and West

He was given as a hostage to the Parthian king Mithradates II, but he managed to purchase his freedom by ceding 70 valleys. Later he was named "King of kings" and "the most powerful king of his era". Advocating for the rapprochement of cultures and civilizations of the West and the East, for a short time he made his country the strongest state in the Roman East. The tale of Tigranes II the Great is as great as it is tragic. Due to the failed palace coups and betrayal of his son, he was forced to abandon all conquest and place his rule under the protection of Rome.

ART & CULTURE

The collection of films focused on

ART & CULTURE

Two films. Two lives. One timeless sound. This documentary cycle traces the extraordinary journeys of composers Aram Khachaturian and Arno Babajanian — musical painters who shaped the 20th century with works like the fiery Sabre Dance and the tender Nocturne. Their compositions unfold like landscapes: wild and bold like the Caucasus mountains, or soft and luminous like dawn over Armenia. Through global fame, intimate friendships with Charlie Chaplin and Ernest Hemingway, and deeply personal struggles, this is a portrait of music that captured a century — and still resonates today.

Mr. SABRE DANCE. Aram Khachaturian

Known worldwide as "Mr. Sabre Dance," Aram Khachaturian is one of the five most performed composers of all time, according to UNESCO. A friend to legends like Charlie Chaplin and Hemingway, he created music heard every 10 minutes somewhere in the world. This film explores the remarkable life of the Soviet-Armenian maestro — a journey through fame, struggle, and triumph across two world wars.

ARNO BABAJANIAN: The Gifted Composer

A musical prodigy by age three, Arno Babajanian was discovered by Aram Khachaturian at just five. Gifted, witty, and original, he rose to fame with unforgettable compositions. But behind the brilliance was a life of pain, danger, and relentless struggle. As Babajanian once said, "Thirty years under the sword of Damocles..." — a powerful portrait of genius forged through hardship.
